

WHAT SHOULD I DO IF I HAVE A SON OR DAUGHTER WHO IS A VICTIM OF SCHOOL VIOLENCE?

- Remain calm and listen to your son or daughter. Don't criticize or encourage aggression to defend themselves.
- Go to the school, report the act of violence. Talk to the victim's tutor or the principal.
- Do not confront the aggressor student. It is the school authorities who must take on this task.
- Request a meeting at the school to be informed of the measures to be taken for the case. Make sure that a record of the meeting is taken, as evidence of the agreements and commitments made.
- Report the incident of violence on www.siseve.pe, portal of the Ministry of Education.
- Improve communication with your children and encourage them to participate in activities that strengthen their social skills, self-esteem and self-confidence, such as sports or music groups.
- If you find out that your child is the aggressor, it is important to listen to them and analyze the consequences of their actions together. Let them know that they must make a non-aggression commitment. They may need specialized help, go to a medical center.
- In case of sexual violence:
  1. Stay calm, listen carefully to your child, it is important to feel supported.
  2. Do not erase evidence (do not bathe or wash clothing). Go to the nearest police station and the Public Prosecutor's Office to make the complaint. Inform the school of what happened.
  3. Talk to your child, it is important not to feel guilty, explain that he or she did not provoke the aggression.
  4. Make sure your child gets specialized help at a medical center.
